NASHVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 18, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- JustAPinch.com, using a proprietary algorithm and data from millions of cloud-based recipe boxes, researched the Christmas recipes most popular with America's home cooks. This is a list of the most saved, viewed, shared, rated and cooked Christmas recipes leading into the 2018 holiday season.

You'll find desserts, options for Christmas dinner, and some usual suspects (eggnog!) dominating the list. The most popular recipe on the list by far was the Crock Pot Christmas Crack recipe. This simple-to-make and yummy dessert continues to grow in popularity in all parts of the country.

Internet search traffic for recipes only highlights viewing trends, but when millions of home cooks directly engage with and ultimately save a recipe in their own personal recipe box, it demonstrates a purposeful intent to cook. This gives real insight into the recipes that are being viewed, shopped for and actually cooked in these home kitchens, and these recipes are representative of the type of Thanksgiving recipes similarly being cooked across the country.
